LETT'S MANUFACTURES.

Letts's Patent Liquid Ink Pen-cil.—This ingenious novelty is likely to cause a complete revolution in writing instruments. Though called a pencil, it is not only in so far that it has a perpetual "point" and contains its own writing material; and it is a pen inasmuch as it writes with jet black ink. It is intended to be carried in the pocket, and is always ready for use. Thousands have already been sold, and unsolicited testimonials to its value are received daily. Price 2/6 each. Packets of ink for renewing the supply, 6d.

Letts's Sectional Papers.—A cheap paper on which rough plans may be drawn to scale, and colored without the ruled lines showing objectionably through the work; especially serviceable to surveyors, engineers, builders, architects, and pattern makers. Drawing paper, per quire, from 1/9 to 7/7, according to scale. Tracing paper, per quire, from 2/3 to 10/7, according to scale. See special prospectus for details.

Letts's Sectional Books.—Memorandum books made up of the one-eighth sectional paper, especially useful to architects. Foolscap 8vo, 30 leaves, limp, 1/; 120 leaves, metal rimmed, 1/6; large note size, 60 leaves, limp, 1/6; 120 leaves, metal rimmed, 2/6.

Letts's Office Memo. Blocks.—To hang up in the office, for Memos, &c.; more convenient than straggle slips. Thin blocks, 6d.; ruled, 8d. Thick, 1/; ruled, 1/2. Extra thick, 1/6; ruled, 1/8.

Letts's Machine Blocked Commercial Forms.—No. 1, Memorandum Form, oblong shape, 1/; No. 2, Memorandum Form, upright, 1/8; No. 3, Statement of Account, 1/6; No. 4, Octavo Invoice, 1/6; No. 5, Quarto Invoice, 2/.

Letts's Office Ruling Pens.—For ruling lines in account books, &c., in red, blue, or black. In box, with supply of ruling ink of each color, pens, &c., 1/6 per box.

Letts's Spoonbill Pens.—A single dip of ink with these pens suffices for writing several long letters. 6d. per dozen.

Letts's Box of Domestic Labels.—Containing a variety of luggage and key labels, as well as adhesive labels for shelves, books, jams, &c. 1/ per box.

Letts's Copyable Ink Pencils.—Writing made with these pencils may be copied on to damp copying paper and then becomes indelible. 1d. each.

Jam-Pot Covers.—Packets containing 3 dozen covers of parchment paper, specially prepared to keep the preserve from the injurious effects of the atmosphere. 6d.

Jam-Pot Labels.—500 labels for all the lending preserves, gummed and cut ready for use, in box. 1/.

Electricity for Lighting, Signalling, and Blasting in Mines.—By Captain Brain, of the Traffalgar Collieries, Forest of Dean.

Single Needle Receiving Code, for fixing on the face of the single needle instrument. By Captain Brain. Price 6d.

Letts's Patent Ink-Supplying Penholder.—The great advantage derived by using this Penholder is, that three (or four) letters may be written with one dip of the pen. Any pen will fit the holder, which only requires to be known to be universally adopted. 1/ per box.

Letts's Portable Copying Machine.—Is easy and never falling in its operation. It is also portable and inexpensive, and will keep in good working order for many years. Letter size, 21/; foolscap, 25/.

Letts's "Hand" Bookmarker and Paper-knife.—Indicates the precise line at which reading ceased, does not project, and takes no room in the book. 6d. per box. No reader should be without this bookmarker.

An illustrated catalogue of all Letts's publications may be had of most booksellers and stationers, or will be forwarded direct by the publishers on application.

This Edition is published plain, and interleaved with blotting paper.

No. 11 gives same space to each day, is printed on thick highly-finished cream wove writing paper, and bound up with Monthly and Annual Cash Summary in cloth boards.
