

Presented to the Royal Society by Mrs C.N. Atkins and A.D. Goodfellow (having been found on premises in Barrack Street, formerly occupied by Walker's mill)

JOHN WALKER (1799 - 1874)

John Walker was a miller, brewer and merchant who arrived in Hobart in 1822. He built a flour mill at Richmond and later in Launceston. He bought the Government flour mill in Barrack Street, Hobart. He was also a general merchant and banker and acted as liquidator to the Derwent Bank, wound up Governor Arthur's estates, and acted as trustee to others. He was an elder of the Scots Presbyterian Church. (See A.D.B. vol. II) (See also RS. 9, 39, 114). Note: Some other records of Walker's mill & brewery were transferred to the State Archives on indefinite loan by the Roy. Soc. on 8 June 1961 (NS.37)
